Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

You are blatant, BLATANT, shams on the part of already huge telecommunications providers who frankly do not need help. You are selling out smaller competitors who must rely entirely on ingenuity without the help of large advertising agencies, firms, much less budgets, to bring us fair and inventive competition for internet service, speed, and opportunity.

You are shameful for trying to make it only possible for your big business donors to make any living in the world.

How dare you. HOW DARE YOU.

When my family moved to the California bay area, we quickly decided we didn't want a package that provided us cable services that we didn't use. We found a local provider named Sonic that gave us the only thing we cared about: affordable and reliable internet connections.

By pursuing the actions you currently are, you are dismantling their business. If this ISN'T big government interference into the affairs of business owners then YOU CLEARLY DON'T KNOW WHAT THAT IS.

Again. Shame. SHAME on you.

Thank you for your time.
